Speech and Drama Department Will Receive Increased Facilities

By Colleen Wilmes

At the beginning of the 1959-60 school year the speech and drama department will occupy the former girls' gymnasium, which is being remodeled for that department. Many outstanding features will materialize as a result of this plan.

A Little Theater is being built with portable platforms which by their arrangement permits representational or conventional procenium style productions. It is also adaptable for theater-in-the-round or central staging.

On the other side, the former gym has been split into two levels three-fourths of the way back. On the upper level, there will be a forensic classroom.

Classrooms Are Being Built

Immediately adjacent to the forensic room will be a double classroom with a window and door between them. These rooms will serve as radio production and speech classrooms.

Next to this, a full room will provide a large space for scene building and painting. Below the classrooms, there will be an adequate space for storage of scenery and properties.

At the side of the Little Theater will be a large room used for costume storage. Special cabinets and clothes racks will provide for these facilities.

Campus to Host Camp For Band in September

By Shirley Williamson

Marching band camp is to be held from September 8 to 12 at the College. Students attending camp will have food and lodging provided for those days when they would not ordinarily be on the campus.

There is no audition. Marching band is open to all students. There are openings for people who do not now play an instrument, but who would be interested in a short course of intensive instruction on the bugle and drums. Majorettes are also needed.

Attendance Will Help

It will be possible to register for marching band even though circumstances make it impossible for one to attend the camp, but attendance will greatly increase efficiency on the field. The camp will be worked around freshman orientation.

In addition to other activities, the marching band is scheduled to go with the team to the Kirksville game.

Write to Mr. Earle Moss

Interested students who are not now members of the band, but would like to be, should put a note in the campus mail to Mr. Earle Moss giving their address and indicating their interest.

Concert band members will be chosen by audition from those interested students who participate in marching band and support the entire program. Marching band members will have first choice for concert band positions; it may even be that less proficient players will be used in concert band if they have supported the marching band program instead of the more proficient musicians who have not supported the marching band program.

Is It 39:3 When It Comes to Work?

DON'T BUY IT . . . make it. This idea seems to be the motto in Industrial Arts 22. Thirty-nine dainty pairs of hands and three calloused pairs manufacture looms, benches, waste baskets, billfolds, belts, coin purses and other wood and leather objects.

Mr. Howard Ringold, of the industrial arts staff, directs the class each day from 12:30 to 2:30. The course is a prerequisite for elementary students; consequently, the ratio of women to men is 39:3.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I HEAR HE'S DATIN' A REAL 'BEAST'."

Not at Top, But Still Climbing

Seniors who are being graduated from the College this summer obviously have problems to solve before they can live up to the commencement speakers' inevitable prophecy that they are the brightest hope of the future.

Another round in their ladder to greatness will have been reached, however, when they are graduated next month. A new one will be ahead.

Seemingly, reaching any round is a gruelling sacrifice of all-giving and little-taking. But what of the lasting rewards?

"The heights by great men reached and kept were not attained by sudden flight, but they, while their companions slept, were toiling upward in the night," wrote Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. And Josiah Gilbert Holland once wrote, "We build the ladder by which we rise from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies, and we mount to its summit round by round."

Seniors should not be lulled into complacency by the completion of a four-year program. More rigorous standards of mental effort lie ahead—that's the new American theme, and a good one, too.

College Presents Dance-Drama Duo For Student Body

By Colleen Wilmes

Snappy, stirring music set the pace for dance artists Aileen Passloff and Mark Ryder in the College auditorium for the assembly, July 1. Appearing before an enthusiastic audience, their sparkling personalities and interesting costumes caught the fancy of the group.

Laughs prevailed as Mark Ryder depicted the young man in "On the Town, with four of his girl friends." With an abundance of expression and movement, Mr. Ryder became a typical jazz-struck boy.

Perfect technique was executed with ease, poise and grace by Miss Passloff. Her flowing movements enhanced the effectiveness of "And Jacob Loved Rachel." The audience felt Jacob's disappointment when he realized that he had married Leah instead of Rachel.

It is a challenge to an artist to perform each time on a different stage and before a different audience. Miss Passloff and Mr. Ryder have accepted that challenge and brought the College an inspiring performance.

Miss Passloff Is Actor and Dancer

By Colleen Wilmes

Appearing in the assembly on July 1, in the College auditorium, with dance artist Mark Ryder was Aileen Passloff. Miss Passloff, a graduate of Bennington College, joined Sophia Marlow's Company soon after graduation.

Several films and varied acting work are in Miss Passloff's background. She played the part of Topsy in "The King and I." She has studied at the School of American Ballet, with Ballet Russe, and has trained under Merce Cunningham.

"It allows room for many things to happen," said Miss Passloff in discussing "And Jacob Loved Rachel." This number was her favorite of the selections presented Wednesday.

Five weeks of touring is in the offing for the pair. After that, Miss Passloff will return to New York where she teaches at the Master Institute of Allied Arts.

Everyone is invited to attend the recital. There is no admission charge.

Miss Chloe E. Millikan Brings Recognition to State College

By William J. Cotton

Growth and development of the laboratory school of the College has been an integral part of the life of Miss Chloe E. Millikan, director of elementary education. She, in turn, has been a major contributor to its progress.

Miss Millikan came to Northwest Missouri State College in September, 1928, after several years of teaching and supervision in the public schools of Missouri, and two years as director of early childhood education in the Teachers College of Kansas City.

After its beginning as a one-room school, the laboratory school was soon re-organized on the division plan. Miss Millikan became head of the primary divisions which consisted of the first three grades. These grades, with twenty-three children enrolled, were located in room 124 of the Administration building.

Kindergarten Is Added

In the fall of 1929 a kindergarten was added to the division. This was an innovation for this area, which proved very successful. Twenty-nine children were enrolled in the first kindergarten, more than the combined total for the other three grades of the division.

Miss Millikan recalls that it often had been a problem to obtain sufficient numbers of children for the laboratory school.

After its establishment, the kindergarten became a feeder for the rest of the school, and with increased enrollment it became necessary to provide separate rooms for the different grades.

Nursery School Is Next

In 1936 Miss Millikan added a nursery school for three and four-year olds to the division. Erection of the Horace Mann building and the provision of fully prepared supervisors for each age level further strengthened the teacher preparation program.

Miss Millikan always has taught the foundation courses in early childhood education, and in recent years has added child psychology and philosophy of education to her teaching area. She has been supervisor of the entire elementary school since 1955.

Born in Schell City, Miss Millikan was the only child of Dr. George S. and Elizabeth Millikan. Her father was a pioneer physician who was active in county, district, and state medical circles.

She has M. A. from Columbia University. Miss Millikan graduated from the Schell City high school. She has a B.S. in education from Central Missouri State College; M.A. from Columbia University, New York; and has done graduate study at Columbia University, the University of Chicago, and Leland Stanford University.

She has served as a member of the faculty council for twelve years and chairman of the faculty social committee for fifteen years. She has also served on various faculty committees, including the recent committee on faculty rank.

Miss Millikan early felt the need for an organization for elementary education majors. The Maryville branch of the National Council of Primary

Chloe E. Millikan

Education was organized in 1929.

Group Becomes A.C.E.

When in 1931 the Association for Childhood Education was formed from a union of the International Kindergarten and National Primary Council, the Maryville group automatically became the A.C.E.

Because of Miss Millikan's close affiliation with the state and national A.C.E., she has guided the local branch to outstanding recognition on the campus.

Miss Millikan is a past state president of the Missouri A.C.E.; she has served on a number of national research committees, and at present is a member of the national committee for the revision of the constitution and by-laws.

Students Attend Conferences

In years past Miss Millikan took bus loads of her students to A.C.E. conferences. Few years have passed that students from this college have not attended these conferences.

At Homecoming in 1953, active members and past members of A.C.E. honored Miss Millikan with a luncheon commemorating her twenty-five years of service to the College and to A.C.E. At that time she was given a life membership in the organization.

Miss Millikan also has maintained a keen interest in the work of the American Association of University Women. She has served as president of the Maryville branch; two years as chairman of education on the Missouri state division board of the A.A.U.W.; two years as vice-president, and two years as president of the state division, 1953-55.

Serves on State Board

At present she is serving on the state board as chairman of the constitution and by-laws committee. In 1957 she served on the national survey committee.

Miss Millikan has acted as timekeeper for the national A.A.U.W. convention in Kansas City this month.

Appointed as a delegate from the Southwest Central division of A.A.U.W., Miss Millikan will attend the meeting of the International Federation of University Women in Helsinki, Finland, in August, 1959.

Miss Millikan is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national education fraternity, and she was one of the original Missouri state members of Delta Kappa Gamma, national sorority for outstanding women in teaching.

Mrs. Knittl Earns Education Degree

By Myla Larson

Mrs. Esther Knittl, fourth grade supervising teacher, has returned to the College after completing her master's degree in education at the University of Missouri. Mrs. Knittl also took one semester of extra work.

This extra graduate work was in the field of special education. Mentally retarded, gifted, and orthopedically handicapped children were studied. She worked with Dr. A. Sterl Artley who is an author and speaker in the field of reading. Psychology, reading, and supervision were stressed in her work.

Mrs. Knittl's problem was special educational interdisciplinary evaluation treatment of children who were of the Out-patient Clinic in the medical center at the University of Missouri. Children come there from everywhere in the state. Mrs. Knittl worked with the parents and schools of these children.

The University of Missouri is especially interested in this field. It is stressed that parents need help with children of this type.

Beginning Swimming Class Is Important Part of Curriculum

By Don Schooler

Can you swim? If you can, this article probably will not interest you. On the other hand, if you cannot swim and if you want to learn, here is the secret: Before your College days slip by, enroll in Beginning Swimming.

This course, objectively speaking, is designed to teach each individual to swim to some degree of success. It gives each College student the opportunity to learn to participate in the sport that excels all others in over-all muscle exercise.

In all probability, one's first reaction after reading this far, is "It's too late for me to learn to swim." Before you convince yourself, take a stroll down to the College swimming pool in the old gymnasium on Monday, Wednesday, or Friday at 11:00.

It Takes Time

As you enter the door to the pool, you will see twenty-two human forms engaged in the art of swimming. They couldn't swim five weeks ago. They did not learn to swim overnight, however. It wasn't expected of them either.

They began by becoming accustomed to the water through wading. Breath control with the face submerged prefaced the fundamental jelly fish float and rudimentary kicking exercises.

Special floating boards, which allow the swimmer to kick himself through the water, helped develop the flutter kick and then the students were taught how to side stroke while using the scissor kick.

Then Go to the Deeper End

Before beginning the deep water work, the swimmers practiced the back float and the back stroke. Then, upon entering the deeper end, they learned to tread water. Now, many of the swimmers are swimming the length of the pool while using the basic strokes.

Contrary to the wild imaginations of those who fear the water, there have been no drownings this summer, or any previous semester. The reason centers around the capable head swimming instructor, Coach Marion Moss, and his able student assistants, Dale Cramer and Ken Lein.

If you decide to enroll in this course some semester, you will find only one requirement: To pass the course—learn to swim. Students enrolled in the course this summer are Ron Berg, John Cracraft, Bill Croy, Carolyn Cummings, Robert Dreker, Karen Eberle, Wilda Felter, Galya Guess, Martha Guest, Roger Hitt, Jeanne Jay, Lois Miller, Ruth Nelson, Janice Ohrt, Nancy Purcell, Kenny Tobin, Ray Walker and Linda Yates.

College Will Meet Iowa State Team

By Ferral Beemer

Dr. H. D. Peterson has announced that the College has scheduled a wrestling match with Iowa State at Ames. The Bearcats will meet the Cyclones on this campus February 6, 1960.

Iowa State built a very impressive record for itself last season. The team was runner up in the National Collegiate Athletic Tournament in Iowa City. The Cyclones have also been the Big Eight champions.

Last season an impressive record was also established by the Bearcats. They finished the season with a 10-0 record.

Only one member of the wrestling squad graduated last spring. Therefore, Dr. Peterson has good reason to expect another successful season this coming year.

John Bregin Meets Defeat at NCAA

John Bregin, who was number one man on the tennis team here at the College this past season, was recently defeated in the first round of the N.C.A.A. tournament in Evanston, Illinois.

Bregin won the M.I.A.A. tennis crown and the district college division at Warrensburg. He is a sophomore at the College and is from St. Joseph.

Beginning Swimmers Flutter Kick

FLUTTER KICKING . . . is a basic method of propulsion to every competent swimmer. In the picture above, part of the students participating in the beginning swimming course are practicing their flutter kicking.

Class is held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11:00 in the College pool. Head basketball coach, Marion Moss, is the head swimming instructor with Dale Cramer and Ken Lein acting as student assistants.

Swimming Pool Is Open to College

Dr. H. D. Peterson has announced that the College swimming pool will be open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Members of the faculty and their families and students and their families are invited to swim at this time. Children under the age of 10 years, will not be permitted to swim unless they are accompanied by their parents.

Tourney Play Begins In Campus Tennis Class

Tournament play began Monday, July 13, in the 12:30 tennis class of Dr. H. D. Peterson. The class has been divided into three groups for the tournament pairings.

College Competes In Softball League

By Ferral Beemer

Two college teams are competing in the city softball league this summer. They are the Vet's Villagers and the Scrappers, with Dan Neville and Jim Mitchell managing.

Both teams proved themselves in first round competition, as they were two of the three teams tied for first place, all with identical 6-1 records. Tuesday, July 7, ended the first round and competition for the second round began yesterday.

League sponsor, Marvin Brown, has balanced the league into two brackets of round robin play. Teams finishing 1st and 2nd or tied thereof, at the end of each respective round, will qualify for a berth in the single elimination play-offs to be held after the completion of the second round.

The two college teams, as a result of their fine finish in the first round, have assured themselves of a berth in the play-offs regardless of their standings after second round play.

All games are being played at Beal Park with Jack Anderson and Dale Cramer doing the majority of the umpiring duties.

Other college men who have been selected to officiate the contests are Everett Whitehead and Willard Van Buren.
